THE RESULT IN IOWA, Nothing but Governor Gone Democratic and the Legislature Sate. CHICAGO, Nov. 9.-A special to the Inter-

Ocean from Des Moines, Iowa, says: Complete revised returns of the vote on governor give counties number of from give the vote on other state officers and the figures show that A. N. Payner, republican candidate for lieutenant governor, runs about eighty votes per county ahead of of Hutchison. This ratio indicates his election. Judge Givens' vote is 100 per county ahead of Hutchison: Mr. Sabin 120 and Commissioner Smith 125. These figures give a reasonable basis for the conclusion that the extent of the calamity in Iowa is the election of a demo-eratic governor. The senate will stand 28 republicans and 22 of opposition; the house 51 re-publicans, 48 democrats and one in doubt.

NEW YORK. Nov. 9 .- The weakness of last evening in the stock market continued to prevail this morning and first prices were generally from 1/4 to 1/4 per cent lower than last night's figures, the grangers showing the largest declines. There was very little business in the market outside of St. Paul, Atchi-son, Lackawanna, Missouri Pacific, sugar re-fineries and lead trust, even Reading being comparatively neglected. There was demand enough for stocks in the early trading, however, to advance quotations fractionally, and Atchison rose 3/8 and Lackawanna 3/8, while lead was specially strong and advanced from 203/4 to 223/8 and Tennessee coal from 63/8 to 65/4. The bear pressure was then applied and prices receded, most of the list losing the early im-provement, while the market became much more active. No specially weak point was un-covered, however, though the grangers led in the downward movement and all showed fractional losses from the opening figures.

THE ELEVENTH CENSUS.

Superintendent Porter's Annual Report -What He Has Done and What He Proposes to Do.

The report of Robert P. Porter, superindent of census, to the Secretary of the Interior about the operations of the census office since June 1, 1889, which has been submitted, explains in detail the vast amount of work that the cases would be tried today, but Detective commodation of the office employes, whose number will increase to 2,000 and then decline, Mr. Crane. provided for an expansion of office room as it is needed, and then for its contraction as less Boies 5,826 plurality. Partial returns of it is required, so that the expense for rent shall never be greater than the utmost economy warrants. Of the 210 employes 27 have passed a civil-service examination, 4 have been examined by special agents, 11 (except exempts) were in the tenth census, 3 (except exempts) were transferred from other branches of the government service, 69 were examined by the census office board, 22 have had no examination and 74 have been exempt from examination as special agents, chiefs of division, statistical experts, watchmen, laborers, assistant messengers, and some others. Thirty of the 157 applicants who were examined by the census office board of examiners failed to pass. The report says: "The method of ex-amination inaugurated by the office and ap-proved by the Secretary of the Interior will not only bring the best work and leave the superintendent free to act with great rapidity when the demand is greatest for clerks, but is in the line of practical civil service reform."

SEVERAL IMPORTANT REPORTS of the eleventh census will be ready for publication during the fall and winter of 1890, and cluding many registered packages and letters. the superintendent of census makes a suggestion which, if adopted by Congress, will secure the publication of the volumes speedily after they are ready for the printer. He would avoid the delay which accompanied the printing of the tenth census volumes in the government printing office by having the volumes of this census printed by private contract, or by hav-ing the census office print and publish them itself. The purchase at a small cost of the census printing establishment, now in active operation in the office, will save thousands of dollars, he says, and expedite the work to an extent that would hardly be credited by those unacquainted with the working of a census

ENUMERATION OF POPULATION. For the purpose of the enumeration of population a division of the country into supervisors' districts has been made and the result printed in census bulletin No. 1. The work preliminary to the enumeration is well in hand, and a considerable amount of it is already done. The population schedule has been prepared and in addition to the information called for by the tenth census schedule will ascertain what language is spoken by every person 10 years of age and upward, how long adult males of foreign birth have been in the United States and whether they are naturalized, how many children each married woman has had and how many of them are living, and the classification by race will include mulattoes, quadroons and octoroons. The classification of occupations will be more complete than ever

VITAL STATISTICS. Owing to improvements in the records of some of the states and to the active co-operation of 80,000 physicians, to whom registers nounce that a demonstration of Boulangists have been sent, the vital statistics will be more complete than it was possible to make them in the census of 1880. Among the important new features of this work is a special study of the bith and death rates and of the principal causes of death in twenty-four of our largest cities; a special study of the influence of race upon fecundity and mortality, and a special study of the relations of occupation to death rates and to particular causes of death. The question of collecting the statistics of

made, the report states, to follow certain sugtestified that he had analyzed the stains on a piece of blue paper, a piece of cotton and some pieces of paper from the interior of the trunk. He pronounced them all Under the head of wealth, debt and taxation, the statistics of which in the last census sworn out a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Louis were collected under the direction of Mr. Porter, the report states that comprehensive pauperism and crime has not yet been defi-tables are being prepared which will show the financial condition of every county, city, town and village at the end of each fiscal year since The assessed valuation and financial condition of counties in 1889-90, as compared with 1880, will be given separately by counties and states, and the comparison of the assessed val-uation and financial condition of states will go back as far as 1859. A table of all sources of revenue in cities and large towns of 5,000 population will be given. In the matter of securing full particulars of local governments apart from finance a comprehensive series of investigations is now being completed which it is believed will cover the entire ground. A report of the public indebtedness, state, county and municipal, for each year of the decade ending 1890, will be included. The work of the division in charge of this work is so well advanced that the results for the nine years ending 1889 will be published next summer.

Owing to the great cost of collecting by the direct method the actual recorded indebtedness of private corporations and individuals (nearly equal to the entire amount appropriated for census purposes), as well as other diffi-culties, Superintendent Porter states that he has had some local and preliminary inquiries instituted in the states of Illinois, Iowa, New York and Massachusetts, and within a short time the results of this investigation will be given to the public in a census bulletin. In connection with this inquiry the superintendent calls attention to the fact that resolutions have been passed by PROMINENT LABOR ORGANIZATIONS various parts of the country asking, that an inquiry be made as to the percentage of people in this country who occupy their own farms and homes, and what percentage are tenants, and of those occupying their own farms and homes what proportion have their property free from debt, and of the farms and homes under mortgage what percentage of the value is mortgaged. This line of inquiry, the report states, is not authorized by law, but Mr. Porter says that the office is willing to undertake the inquiry providing Congress will grant the necessary additional money. CLOSING WORDS. The report gives interesting statements as to the progress made in other divisions, and in conclusion Mr. Porter says that every provision possible has been made for a successful enumeration of the population, wealth and industry of the United States next June, and that every special inquiry has been started. Many of the important divisions, he says, are now well advanced in their work, and if satisfactory arrangements can be made for the prompt publication of the results the superintendent is confident that the cleventh census will not only be accurate and will cover all the statistical investigations required by law but it will be out on the Police Court. Capt. Symons, who swore out warrants against Editor Louis Schade of the Sentinel and John H. Crane, the commission merchant, as published in yesterday's STAR, was at the Police Court this morning. It was understood that has already been done preliminary to the Mattingly had not served the warrants at 9 active field work that will begin next year. The o'clock. About 11 o'clock he served the wararrangements that have been made for the ac- rants on Editor Schade and accompanied him to the Police Court. Then he started out for THE ALLEGED LIBEL.

The article which forms the basis of the prosecution, as published in yesterday's STAR, is set forth at length in the warrant. It is headed "Astounding Disclosures," and goes on to say that "one of the boldest and most fraudulent jobs ever imposed upon the inhabitants of this ring-ridden District is that connected with the south pier of the new free bridge." The article recites various statements purporting to have been made by Capt. Symons concerning reported injuries resulting to the "south pier" during the June freshet. The article denies the statements which Capt. Symons was quoted as making, alleging that part of the foundations of the pier had been washed away and the pier was sinking or toppling and out of plumb. goes on to say that "it appears that the motive for putting in circulation this false report was: First, to exonerate the contractors who recently constructed the new iron bridge on old piers." Then it is asserted substantially that this iron bridge is an unstable, poorly constructed affair. The name of Mr. Crane was attached to the article.

The second warrant, which was sworn out only against Editor Schade, was based on an editorial published in the same edition of the paper inviting attention to and commenting on Mr. Crane's article. AN EXAMINATION WAIVED.

As soon as Mr. Crane was informed that he was wanted on a charge of criminal libel he went with his counsel, Mr. A. B. Williams, to the Police Court, where he found the warrant. Mr. Williams remarked that he did not care to take up time fighting a shadow and he would therefore waive an examination. He did not care to read the warrant, he said, because life The examination being waived Judge Miller sent the case on to the grand jury and fixed bail at $500. MR. SCHADE ALSO WAIVES EXAMINATION. Mr. R. S. Davis appeared for Mr. Schade and ne also waived an examination, and bail in his case was fixed at the same amount as in Mr. Crane's case.

Both gentlemen gave the required bail. WHAT MR. SCHADE SAYS.

Mr. Louis Schade, being seen by a reporter of THE STAR, said: "Shortly before I left on a western trip, from which I only returned last night, Mr. Crane handed me the article, which I hastily read over, but finding citations from THE STAR and an interesting historical sketch of the building of the Aqueduct bridge, with figures and facts, I saw no reason not to publish it, as I believed it to be in the interest of the public and as it was simply criticising the official acts of a government officer. I certainly had no personal or libelous intent against Capt. Symons, who is personally unknown to me. The editorial article, for which a second warrant has been issued against me, was written after I had left the city and I never saw it until I read it in the Sentinel at Chicago. It simply calls attention to Mr. Crane's long article and in my opinion does not contain any libelous matter; but I shall not shirk any responsibility for it after it has appeared in my paper. I think this matter concerns every citizen of the District. Public officers must allow their official acts to be criticized. If any wrong has been done by Mr. Crane in his statement I shall certainly make the amende honorable. But that has first to be shown, as I am nitely determined, though an attempt will be not going to be frightened by any suits

Mr. Crane Upon the Libel Suit.

To the Editor of THE EVENING STAR. THE STAR of yesterday contains the announcement that Capt. Thomas W. Symons has Schade, editor of the Sentinel, and the undersigned, on a charge of criminal libet. Allow me to say that it is not my purpose to libel any one, and if Capt. Symons will show that anything I have said of him is untrue I will promptly make the amende honorable, giving it the widest publicity possible. With regard to the "toppling pier" article, I beg leave to say that I, with others, have tried in vain for several months to get an official statement as to whether that pier is out of plumb, and if so, how much, but without success. I have seen two tests made by private parties and each time this pier was shown to be plumb—equally as plumb as the one next to it. Now, are disinterested that this so-called "toppling pier" is from four to seven inches out of piumb, as was stated last summer, then I will publicly retract all that I have said or written that in any way reflects on Captain Symons, so far as his connection with this pier is concerned. But until this is done I firmly adhere to all that I have said, while at the same time I disclaim any intention to do the captain injustice. I do not know him, not even by sight. It is with his official acts that I am dealing. They are public property and while I live I intend to exercise my right as an American citizen to criticise the conduct of all officials, whether in the army or out of it. J. H. CRANE.

THE OPIUM SMOKING CASE. Testimony Today in the Trial of Chong Lee, the Chinaman.

In the Police Court yesterday afternoon after THE STAR's report closed, in the case of Chong Lee, charged with four assaults in permitting opium smoking in his laundry, Mr. Shillington contended that an assault implies force upon one side and repulsion or at least want of assent upon the other. It must be comassault upon a consenting party would be a legal absurdity. He ridiculed the claim of the government that the smokers were incapable of giving legal consent, and claimed that no fraud or misrepresentation was used by the defendant. The smokers knew exactly what they were getting and took the drug with full knowledge of its character and effect.

AN OPIUM SMOKER FOR NINE YEARS. The first witness called was a young man, giving his name as Thomas Wyatt, who was in the joint at the time of the raid. He testified that he has been smoking opium for nine years. He has only been in Washington three weeks and has smoked at Chong Lee's several times. "Hitting the pipe," he said, "has an exhibitating effect on him. He frequently smoked from 50 cents to $2 worth of opium a day and did not think it injured him. Witness did not think that Chong Lee had ill treated him by permitting him to smoke the opium. ting him to smoke the opium. THE DISTRICT CHEMIST A WITNESS

District Chemist Richardson testified that he had analyzed the opium found in Chong Lee's place. He found it contained seven per cent morphine. He could not say what effect the smoking would have, but he thought the same amount taken internally would kill a person. NOT AS BAD AS CIGARETTES. The next witness was a young man named Warwick, who gave his name as George H. Jones. He testified that he had been smoking opium for seven years and did not think the effect was as bad as was produced by cigarettes.

Mr. Armes said that the evidence of the chemist had taken him by surprise and at suggestion the case went over until todaw.
When the trial was resumed this afternoon Dr. Hickling was called as a witness and gave testimony describing the disastrous effects of opium smoking. An habitual smoker without his opium, the doctor said, is the most miserable creature imaginable; sometimes becomes a raving maniac. A dose of the drug will soon restore him to his normal condition. When the habit is once formed it cannot be given up without the assistance of a skillful physician. The witness Wyatt was recalled and told the court that eight years ago, when he began smoking opium, he had a severe cough. The ough has now left him. The witness said that the drug has not affected his mental condition; his memory is good, his appetite excellent and his digestive organs in first-class condition. A MEDICAL OPINION AS TO THE "ASSAULT." Judge Miller stated the charge and asked the doctor if he thought the giving of the opium by Chong Lee to Wyatt, did him more harm than it did good. "I think," answered the doctor, "that it would have been more of an assault to have refused than to give him the drug."

DISTRICT GOVERNMENT.

THE LIABILITY OF CHURCH PROPERTY. In the assessment for the condemnation of land for alley in 1873, the property of St. Joseph's orphan asylum, there was a charge of $76.86 put against it which was never paid. A lien certificate was therefore to Jesse B. Wilson, who still holds it. Recently Mr. Wilson in a letter to the special assessment division required them to satisfy the lien by a collection of the assessment. It has been held that a church was not exempt from liability for land con-demned for alleys; that such charge was not covered by the case in which church property was exempt from taxes and assessment. Soveral days ago Mr. Wm. Oscar Roome, chief of the division, wrote Commissioners for instructions. The matter was referred to Attorney that the present system had been of great benefit to the country, but that there was room Riddle, who decides that if St. Joseph's is a public charity and has no land in excess of rea-

Two STAMPING MACHINES are being placed in two divisions of the city post office. They are known as the Hey-Dolphin letter stampers and are said to have a capacity of 30,000 letters per hour; that is letters of ordinary length. The feed is entirely automatic and the machines register the total number stamped besides stacking them in a convenient manner. They will be put in operation as soon as they are completed. One machine in the New York office stamped 153,765 letters on the 1st instant and 187,948 on the day following. It could, the inventors say, have done much more, but it exausted the supply. was Judge Miller's remark this morning when keeping a rooster that crows at all hours. Rodney has three times had such cases before the court. The last case was against Mrs. Mary Murray, and Rodney claimed that Waple's rooster begun to crow when Mrs. Murray's ceased crowing. "Do you think it is an arrangement between "No, sir," replied Rodney, "but I think it was an arrangement between Mrs. Murray and Mr. Waple."

"He's a crank on the question of chickens," said Mr. Waple. "There wasn't any rooster in the yard. They were all hens." Mr. Rodney, when questioned by Mr. Shillington, said he had no degs, chickens, cats or babies in his house. Rodney was anxious to secure a conviction, but Judge Miller dismissed the case.

Busy Burglars. Preston Northrop of 622 B street northwest reports to police headquarters that his house

Suggestion About the Crippen Fund.

To the Editor of THE EVENING STAR: In connection with raising money for a monument to the memory of the brave Officer Crippen why would it not be a good idea to have a benefit—matinee—at one of the theaters for that purpose. The late officer was known to all the managers, for whom he did good and faithful work, and no doubt the actors and actresses who might be here at the time would gladly "do a turn" for such a good purpose. The officers could readily dispose of tickets to persons on their beats and a good sum would be realized for the monument fund.

Another Suggestion. Crippen why would it not be a good idea to Another Suggestion. To the Editor of THE EVENING STAR:

About the best monument that can be erected to the memory of that brave young officer, Crippen, is to knock the bottom out of "Hell's Bottom" by refusing to license the saloons there. Sergeant Connally says: "This affair demonstrates the necessity of a more stringent law against the carrying of weapons by these roughs." Yes, but it demonstrates more the necessity of breaking up the places where they meet for "free pool" and "five-cent whisky."

Held for the Grand Jury. Three years ago Harrison Thornton, colored, of Jackson's alley, met at a "parlor social" a girl named Carrie Blakey, who lives at No. 1240 Madison street, and since then he has been visiting her. Carrie charges that Harrison deceived her under a promise of marriage and for that reason she swore out a warrant, on which Harrison was arraigned in the Police Court this afternoon. It was alleged that the girl was under sixteen years old. The girl, who looks much older than she says she is, told her story. Mrs. Blakey, the girl's mother, said she gave her consent to the marriage and issued invitations. Judge Miller held the defendant in $300 bail for the action of the grand inv. jury.

At the meeting of the returning board yesterday a motion to throw out the vote of Hanver's district, because of a slight discrepency, was heard by Judge McSheny and Lynch, who ordered the vote to be counted. Had the vote been rejected it would have made a change in the general re-sult decidedly favorable to the republicans.
